TWO MEN HURT WHEN LANDING

Messages Tell of Sufficient Supply of Food for Six Weeks but Urgent Need of Medicine.

(Copyright, 1928, by The Associated Press.) Kings Bay, Spitzbergen, June 11.—(AP)—General Umberto Nobile, leader of the ill-fated polar expedition on the dirigible Italia, is leading five of his men across the arctic ice in an effort to meet the steamer Braganza. Two of this party are suffering from hurts incurred when the gondola of the ship was torn loose by its first contact with the ice.

This information came in radio messages received late today. The messages added that the men still have a small supply of fuel, but that their progress is hampered by frost-bitten hands and feet, coupled with the condition of the injured men.

Split Into Three Groups.

The Italia's crew split into three groups when the disaster occurred on May 25. General Nobile and his companions were left behind when the gondola was torn away. The others in the crew came down on the ice about 18 miles farther east.

Three of this second group started across the ice toward land. Nothing further has been heard from them. The remainder of the main group, including the wireless operator, report they have sufficient food, but that the provisions are being rigorously rationed. They need medicines for those suffering with frost bites. They report themselves as drifting.

FARM ULTIMATUM SERVED ON G. O. P.

27 Organizations Demand Indorsement of Equalization Fee or Threaten Defeat of Party.

BY PAUL R. MALLON, United News Staff Correspondent.

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—(United News.)—Farmers must receive an indorsement of their equalization fee or they will defeat the republican party at the polls in November, 27 farm organizations declared today in an open ultimatum to the republican national convention on the eve of its opening session.

The notice came just as party leaders were working out an agreement for a strong prohibition plank, and just as they had reached the conclusion the farm "revolt" here would not be so troublesome as they had at first thought. Meantime, the scheduled test of 100,000 farmers with relief demands failed to bring more than a few hundred here.

The farmers' stiff pronouncement added to the trouble promised by Senator Borah, of Idaho, who has some political corruption planks he threatens to bring to the convention floor unless they are incorporated in the platform.

Signatories to Ultimatum.

Signatories of the farm ultimatum included the American Farm Bureau Federation, the corn-belt committee, the committee of 22 and farm unions and federations in Illinois, Iowa, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Missouri, North Dakota and Colorado.

"If the advice and council of the farmers are disregarded at this convention, there is no other alternative save to speak at the polls in November," the farm threat said.

"A candidate unsatisfactory to the farmers cannot carry normal republican states, without whose electoral

BIG MEXICAN SHIP PASSES OVER CITY ON HOP TO CAPITAL

Flying High and Fast, Monoplane Is But Faintly Discernible to Candler Field Watchers.

Captain Emilio Carranza, ace of the Mexican army air service, passed over Atlanta about 11:20 o'clock Monday night on his hazardous non-stop flight from Mexico City to Washington, D. C.

Captain Carranza's plane, a ship similar to the famed "Spirit of St. Louis," of Colonel Lindbergh, was but faintly discernible as it hummed over Candler field. Flying high and fast, which Candler field officials stated existed in the upper altitudes, the proximity of the Mexican plane was made known more by ear than eye. When the roar of the powerful Wright Whirlwind motor was heard, floodlights at the field were turned on, but only a vague outline of the ship could be discerned. It roared in from the southwest at a high rate of speed and sped on toward Stone Mountain, the next point of contact on the mail trail to New York, which the pilot is following on his long flight. It is supposed that Captain Carranza selected the air mail route to take advantage of the beacons which have been erected along the line.

Officials of the Pitcairn Aviation company, operators of the Atlanta-New York air mail route, stated Monday night that a dense fog existed between Greensboro and New York and that mail planes traversing that section of the route had been forced down on account of the adverse atmospheric conditions. They expressed the opinion that the Mexican visitor would be forced to land unless the fog lifted before he reached North Carolina.

E. G. Kilpatrick, of 884 Moreland avenue, S. W., telephoned The Constitution Monday night that the plane had passed over his home at 11:20 o'clock, flying "fast and high." He was but one of many Atlantans who observed the ship as it roared northward in quest of fame and glory.

Mexico City, June 11.—(AP)—Captain Emilio Carranza, of the Mexican army air service, took off from Valbuena flying field at 8:10 this morning for Washington. He had already flown from San Diego, Calif., to Mexico City, May 25, in less than 19 hours, and hoped to reach Washington in about 20 hours.

Captain Carranza piloted a plane similar to the Spirit of St. Louis which carried Colonel Charles A. Lindbergh to Paris and down to

MANLEY CAN FACE TRIAL, IS OPINION

Dr. Campbell Testifies That Banker Could Face Jury But Recommends Postponement Until Fall.

Although he would be likely to create disturbances from hysteria, W. D. Manley, former president of the defunct Bankers Trust company, who is indicted for fraudulent insolvency, could easily stand the excitement of trial without fatal results, in the opinion of Dr. J. L. Campbell, physician, who was appointed Saturday by the state to examine Manley and report on his condition.

Dr. Campbell's opinion as to how Manley would stand the trial was in direct conflict with that of defense physicians, who said that the excitement of the trial would probably bring about Manley's death. Hearings on Manley's state of health were continued by Judge Virlyn B. Moore, of Fulton superior court, pending further reports which are expected to show whether or not a sudden drop in blood pressure was caused by a hemorrhage of the brain.

Manley's trial on another indictment charging fraudulent insolvency had been set for today, but is being

MISS RUTH MADDEN.

CLARENCE N. BARRETT.

BY ANNIE LOU HARDY.

Crowding all the thrills that usually star one's allotted span of existence into the short space of forty-eight hours is the experience of Clarence Neil Barrett, hailing from the Lone Star state, whose graduation from Georgia Tech Monday morning precedes by a matter of a few hours his marriage to lovely Miss Ruth Madden, scheduled to take place at 8:30 o'clock tonight.

The intervening hours that is, most of them, were danced away at the Pan-Hellenic fancy dress ball which began at 11 o'clock Monday night, coming to a grand finale at 6 o'clock this morning.

This whirlwind of exciting events began at one minute after midnight Sunday night, when all of the Tech student body and most of the city's younger set gathered in Garber hall to continue the brilliant program of amusement, dances inaugurated last Thursday night.

At sunrise Monday morning this popular Tech senior rushed to his fraternity house on West Peachtree, breakfasted and changed his tuxedo for his college cap and gown, that symbol of scholarly attainment which bespoke that at 10 o'clock he, along with some 200 other Tech students, would receive a sheepskin saying that he was a bona fide graduate of that institution of learning in the department of science and commerce.

Monday night, following their wedding rehearsal, he led his fiancée, wear-

NATURAL GAS LINE PERMITS GRANTED

Service To Start Within a Year, Officials of Company State; Industrial, Domestic Use Planned.

Atlanta will be supplied with cheap natural gas from the extensive Moore and Richland, La., fields within the next year, it was announced Monday by the Southern Natural Gas corporation, successor to the Southeastern Gas company, permits having been granted for the new enterprise. The piping will serve industrial districts surrounding Birmingham, Atlanta, Chattanooga, Montgomery and other of the largest communities in the southeast.

Engineers of the company have been in the field for the past five months, making an intensive study of the territory to ascertain the probable consumption of natural gas for industrial and domestic purposes, the report showing that there is a large and rapidly growing demand for natural gas in Georgia and adjacent states, and that there are no engineering or construction difficulties involved in the laying of a line of the size and length proposed, it was said.

350 Miles of Main.

The plans contemplate the construction of 350 miles of 24-inch trunk transmission line, from which branch mains will be extended to serve adjacent cities and towns. The president of the Oklahoma Natural Gas corporation, one of the largest natural gas companies in the world, is expected to serve as president and general manager of the new company. The Oklahoma Natural Gas corporation has approximately 3,000 miles of main and district lines serving at retail a population of approximately 600,000. Mr. Sharp is said to be one of the most experienced and able men in the industry.

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—Last yesterday afternoon the motor muscles of my right leg suffered an instant paralysis and threw me violently to the pavement, fracturing my right hip and sending me here to Grace hospital, where I am lying flat on my back, unable to navigate the troubled waters of this very much rolled convention crowd. But I am keeping in touch with the main occurrences; but most of these main occurrences are of very little importance.

The eddies of speculation are whirling in all the lobbies and headquarters of the various candidates. There is an air of uncertainty and anxiety on the part of those who are boosting the claims of any one of the so-called "allies," because of the continued cloud that envelops the white house at Washington. Some of the more ardent friends of Lowden, Watson and Curtis are indignant that the president allows the doubt as to his ultimate decision on the subject of another nomination to run here to Kansas City and clear into the doors of the convention.

It is not now expected that Secretary Mellon has in his pocket on his arrival here today with his mammoth bucktailed delegation, a specific message from the president. If there is any such message here, a probable effort to influence the majority to the president, Everett Sanders, and when he is approached on the subject he looks down his nose and says nothing. Anyhow, it will not be long now until all the mystery will be cleared away and the country will know

DRY SQUAD NABS 29 AT AMERICUS

Agents Act on Tips of 'Under-Cover' Men and Quickly Jail Nearly Two Score.

Americus, Ga., June 11.—(AP)—Ten federal prohibition agents quietly entered Americus tonight and started a roundup of alleged prohibition violators, arresting 29 persons, including four white men, within a short time after they had begun work. Authorities said more than 100 arrests were expected to be made before morning.

The raiders, led by Agent Cobb, of Columbus, and Agent Stewart, of Thomasville, began operation independently and local officers professed to be ignorant of the intended campaign.

The raiders sent word to the sheriff asking if he had room for 100 prisoners in jail and were assured that all those arrested and unable to make bond could be taken care of.

Cobb stated that the raids were being made on information furnished by five undercover agents who have been here for the past week securing evidence.

At one hotel employing a dozen or more bell boys, all except one, was arrested.

When the arrests were made, the prisoners were taken to the jail where a deputy United States court clerk was on duty and were given an opportunity to post bail of $1,000, but only one of the 29, a white man, had been able to furnish bond.

MELLON CONCEDED POWER TO SELECT PARTY CANDIDATE

Silence of the President Worries Many, But Vermont Announces Votes in Hoover List.

VARE DECLARES FOR SECRETARY

Mellon Keeps Quiet; Ohio Delegation Threatens To Split; Anti-Hoover Forces Whipped.

BY PAUL F. HAUFERT, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Kansas City, June 11.—(AP)—The republican presidential situation hung tonight in a balance, weighted on the one hand by the seeming overwhelming Hoover strength, but offset on the other by the Coolidge enigmas, as party leaders anxiously awaited the final word from delegates that hold the key of solution.

The lineup of the big Pennsylvania delegation remained in doubt with Mellon still silent, but with Vare announcing that he would use his influence at a caucus tomorrow to have the 79 delegates endorse Hoover.

Vermont for Hoover.

The 11 delegates from Vermont, native state of President Coolidge, boomed by some leaders for renomination to the consternation of Hoover lieutenants, decided to go to the commerce secretary solidly on the first ballot.

Jubilant in the Hoover camp over this development was tempered by indications that most of the so-called Willis delegates from Ohio might cast their lot with Coolidge, helping to build him up, unless he puts a foot down on the movement as Hoover's rival contender for the nomination.

On the night before the convention opening the arrival of the Pennsylvania delegation and conferences that immediately ensued gripped party chiefs, delegates and newspaper men alike.

Vare Wants Secretary.

The treasury secretary admittedly one of the men who holds the key to the situation, and Senator Elihu Yale, leader of the powerful Philadelphia organization, reached the city late in the day with the other members of the Keystone State delegation and each immediately was besieged by the friends of the various candidates in an effort to influence their position.

After several hours, Vare summoned the newspaper correspondents to his quarters in the Baltimore hotel and handed them a brief typewritten statement, in which he declared that in his judgment "the republicans of Pennsylvania are for Herbert Hoover for president." He added that he was convinced of the sincerity of President

Science Absolved of Blame

Airtight Abode Proved Not Cause of Lamented Demise

In Oglethorpe Oscar's Death

BY HELEN AND OLIVE PARISH.

Science is not to blame for the recent death of Oglethorpe Oscar, the horned toad who lived for five weeks in an airtight jug, in the opinion, unanimously expressed, by the Oglethorpe university scientific faculty composed of Dr. J. F. Sellers, dean of the university and professor of chemistry; Dr. John A. Aldrich, professor of physics and astronomy; and George Harry O'Keefe, professor of biology and botany.

Winkle-Plus, the other deceased Peachtree road horned toad, was given the best possible environment and care by his owners, Dr. and Mrs. Sellers, but this did not prevent him from running up the ghost two hours after his Texan compatriot, the much-lamented Oscar.

According to Professor O'Keefe "If a toad is destined to die, he will die regardless of his surroundings. Winkle-Plus was housed in a large and airy cage, with ample space to run around, antihills to dig up and flies to catch. He was provided with food with a daily supply of water, fresh vegetables and chard leaf."

"Oscar and Winkle-Plus," said Professor Aldrich, "illustrate the force of impartial death. Winkle-Plus is a testimonial to the fact that Oscar might have died out of captivity as well as in a glass laboratory jar."

"While I am personally distressed at the death of Winkle-Plus," affirmed Dean Sellers, "it seems to me that his death came as a sudden reminder of the fact that science should not be blamed for the suffocation of Oscar. A dead toad is not a martyr, and toads in a strange environment are apt to die at any time. This is especially true of horned toads which are of the reptilian family and are not amphibians.

Even the Atlanta Humane society, through J. Carroll Payne, its president, says that the experiment on Oscar may have been unnecessary, but was not cruel.

ONLY 3 WOMEN WILL BE HEARD ON K. C. ROSTRUM

Kansas City, June 11.—(P)—Only three women will make speeches seconding the nomination of presidential candidates before the convention.

Mrs. Christine Bradley South, of Kentucky, daughter of former Governor Bradley, of Connecticut, will second for Secretary Hoover; Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, for Lodge, and Mrs. H. J. Corwell, wife of a newspaper editor of St. John, Kansas, for Senator Curtis.

SLAYER OF BUTLER IN CHAPLIN HOME GETS TEN YEARS

Manti, Utah, June 11.—(P)—Sheldon Reid Clark, 25, confessed hammer slayer of Don Solovich, former butler in the Hollywood home of Charles Chaplin, was found guilty of voluntary manslaughter by a jury here to night. Under terms of the conviction, Clark must serve an indeterminate term of from one to ten years in the Utah state prison. Sentence will be imposed June 15. The jury deliberated three hours and 24 minutes.

COOLIDGE LAUDS G. O. P. PROSPERITY

Washington, June 11.—(P)—Prosperity and economy, the slogans of the Coolidge administration, were broadened tonight in a speech by the president delivered on the eve of his party's national convention.

There was no mention of the Kansas City gathering which will select a presidential nominee nor to the president's own views as to his own tenure.

He spoke freely, however, of the improvement he saw in the nation's condition since 1921, when the republican party came into power.

Mr. Coolidge appeared before the members of the government's business organization at the regular budget meeting and his speech was sent over a network of radio stations. In reviewing the state of affairs, he said it had been his endeavor "so to manage the national finances as to secure the greatest benefit to the people."

Kept Down Budget.

"I have rejoiced in keeping down the annual budget," he said, "in reducing taxes and paying off the national debt, because the influence of such action is felt in every home in the land."

"It has meant that the people not only have greater resources with which to provide themselves with food and clothing and shelter, but also for the enjoyment of what was but lately considered the luxuries of life. We call these results prosperity. They have come because the people have been willing to do their duty. They have refrained from waste, they have shared the extravagance. They have paid their debts, they have improved their credit. If, out of all these efforts, the reward of prosperity has come, there is reason for national thanksgiving."

The president mentioned his own administration's end of the budget address in referring to efforts made by the government on behalf of war veterans.

Fensions Increased.

"During my term of office," he said, "the pensions of all war veterans have been increased. We take pride in our great resources, our unparalleled prosperity, abundance of food, growth, but we should take equal if not greater pride in the generous and just treatment accorded those who fought our battles."

The president expressed the belief that the floodtide of business prosperity had not yet been reached. Measures and policies that contribute to a continuance of "good times," he said, should be encouraged and whatever interfered with them should be discouraged. Already, he added, however, that adverse effects of the great increase in federal, state and municipal expenditures with the corresponding rise in taxes were being felt.

Era of Prosperity.

"We have been favored with a long-continued era of prosperity," he said. "Year after year the tide of good fortune has steadily risen. It seems not yet to have reached its flood. Measures and policies that contribute to a continuance of good times should be encouraged. Whatever threatens to interfere therewith should be discouraged."

"Students of business trends, experts in economic conditions, view with alarm the continued advance in the cost of government. The cost of government in the United States, federal and municipal in total was $9,590,000,000. In 1925 it had increased to $11,124,000,000. During that period the national government had reduced its expenditures by $2,000,000,000. In that period states, counties, municipalities and other taxing agencies increased their cost by $2,500,000,000. The year 1925 recorded another advance in cost to $11,607,000,000."

Expense Must Stop.

"This steady increase in governmental cost on the part of the state and municipalities is a menace to prosperity. It cannot be ignored. It cannot longer continue without disaster. It will not correct itself. I can conceive no more dependable guaranty of genuine prosperity than a nationwide effort in behalf of less and wiser spending by state and local governments."

"Already the adverse effects of the great increase in such expenditures, with the corresponding rise in their taxes, are being felt. With much capital in the country, new investments are showing a tendency to be insufficient to furnish as good a market as we could wish for labor. While no serious unemployment exists, and the trend of wages is still advancing, if all the money that can be made in employing labor is going to be taken away in local taxes, old and established industries will attempt to struggle along, but new enterprise is not going to be undertaken."

About the worst enemy of the wage earner is government extravagance, Mr. Coolidge asserted.

"Another adverse tendency is for people to take their money and use it in speculation, which contributes nothing to the sum of our national wealth," he said.

Plans for 1929.

Turning to the fiscal affairs for 1929, the president declared that although the figures would indicate a deficit of $94,000,000 he did not face the year with any thought that the budget would not be balanced.

"We must not have a deficit," he asserted bluntly. "I am counting on the prosperity of business for an increase in receipts. I am counting on you for a reduction in the amount of your estimated expenditures. This nation is committed irrevocably to balancing the budget. Nothing should be done to impair that commitment. We are facing a situation where the full utilization of the funds authorized by congress may exceed our estimated receipts. The duty is upon us to see that our outgo does not exceed our income."

The president gave the estimated receipts for the fiscal year 1929 as $2,707,000,000 against estimated expenditures of $2,801,000,000. The fiscal year now closing, he said, would show a surplus in excess of $100,000,000.

Budget Estimates.

In preparing the budget estimates for 1929 for the next session of congress, President Coolidge declared he had tentatively fixed upon $2,707,000,000 for expenditures, which he would be $80,000,000 less than 1929 for ordinary routine operations of government.

"The necessity of keeping expenditures within receipts, the importance of continuing our pay-as-we-go policy, cannot be overemphasized," he added.

Following President Coolidge's address, Director Lord, of the budget bureau, urged the government officials to tackle the task of a balanced budget, with the spirit of the water-baby aboard "Old Ironsides."

"To the federal service," he added, "threat of a deficit is but a challenge and we accept it."

ATLANTA POPULATION ESTIMATED AT 318,000

The population of Atlanta today is 318,000 persons, according to the figures of the waterworks department which has 53,000 water meters in operation in the city. The government estimates that six persons, on the average, use each meter installed.

Alderman Claude L. Ashley, chairman of the waterworks committee of city council, and Zola Smith, general manager of the waterworks department, both believe that Atlanta's claim to the increase in population is based on fact as well as the figures.

"I have made a thorough survey of the city in the past 30 days and am convinced that the population today is the greatest we have ever had," Mr. Ashley said. "I have been chairman of the waterworks committee for three and one-half years, and I have seen many desolate spots made into residential communities. I believe our census is an accurate one."

"We are installing an average of eight meters each day," Mr. Smith said. "When you consider that more of our apartments, accommodating from 10 to 30 families, have but one meter, you can appreciate the fact that our estimates are very conservative."

PAY WARD OFFER COMES UP TODAY

When members of the finance committee of city council begin formation of the June finance sheet at 10 o'clock this morning, they will be faced with the necessity of providing at least $100,000 with which to accept a tender of $100,000 from Jacob Elsas for establishment of a pay ward to be operated in conjunction with Grady hospital.

One proposal which the committee will consider is that the committee set up $100,000 at once and begin work at once on the project.

The other way is flotation of $300,000 worth of bonds for civic improvements in which a $200,000 fund is contained to assist in erecting the pay ward.

Councilman Wiley L. Moore, chairman of the committee and one of the most influential members of the city government, is unequivocally committed to a policy of acceptance of the Elsas tender.

Mayor I. N. Ragsdale and all members of the hospitals and charities committee and other members of city council also are on record in favor of the improvement.

Mr. Moore, he predicted Monday night that every effort would be made to assure adequate financial assistance to accept the proposal at once.

If the bond issue proposal meets approval of the committee, it was pointed out that the election and the possibility of its defeat would again postpone a much needed improvement and might entail such a lengthy delay that Mr. Elsas would withdraw his proposal.

R. Graham West, city controller, has prepared a tentative sheet listing urgently needed appropriations, and the committee is expected to complete its work without unnecessary delays and be ready to submit the report to city council at its meeting, June 18.

Other allocations contained in the $2,000,000 bond issue proposal in addition to the $200,000 fund for the pay ward are $1,000,000 for a new city auditorium; $250,000 for hospital improvements; $250,000 for buildings at Battle Hill sanitarium; $250,000 for park improvements; $150,000 for junior high schools in the northwest section of the city; $150,000 for a junior high school in the southeast section; $250,000 for a Henry Grady senior high school building; and $300,000 for a new police station.

Under the other plan council would be asked to set up $100,000 for the ward and Fulton county to provide another $100,000, thus assuring provision of adequate and modern hospital facilities for Atlantans of moderate means.

The men were said by army officers to be doing stunts when the plane dived to the ground from a height of 200 feet.

LOCAL MUNICIPAL EXPENSES DOUBLE

Washington, June 11.—(P)—Operating and maintenance costs of the general departments of Atlanta's city government more than doubled in the decade between 1917 and 1927, it was disclosed in figures made public here today by the United States department of commerce.

For 1927 the total payments were said to have reached $7,816,317, or $31.29 per capita, as compared with $2,888,129 for the year 1917. The total for 1926, the figures showed, was $6,443,746.

Payments in 1927 for the operation and maintenance of public service enterprises (waterworks, scales, cemetery and auditorium) amounted to $805,149. Together with interest on debt, $875,383, and outlays on permanent improvements, $2,062,751, these items were said to swell the total expenditures for the year to $12,160,606.

Total revenue receipts for 1926 were $11,683,206, or $46.52 per capita. This was said to fall short of the year's total payments, exclusive of those for permanent improvement, by $477,400. Excesses in excess of revenue receipts were met from the proceeds of debt obligations, the report explained.

Total funded or fixed debt of the city outstanding December 31, 1927, was placed at $14,312,000. Net indebtedness (funded debt less sinking fund assets) was found to be $12,193,050, or $49.90 per capita. In 1926 the net debt was $9,142,050, it was pointed out, and in 1917 it was $4,552,223.

The increase in net debt reported for 1927, it was explained, was due to bond issues for sewers, highways, waterworks, schools and city hall.

Assessed valuation of property in Atlanta subject to ad valorem taxes for city corporation was placed at $382,498,804. The levy for all purposes was said to be $10.344543, of which 55.5 per cent was levied for the city corporation, 13.9 per cent for the state and 30.6 per cent for the county. The per capita levy for city, state and county combined was $41.54.

MAN SEEKS TO PAY WHISKY CASE FINE BY LIQUOR RUNNING

Some people borrow from Peter to pay Paul, but C. E. Davis tried more liquor running to pay off an impending fine on whisky charges, it was revealed Monday in city criminal court. Davis drew a fine of $100 and six months' sentence on the first count, and a fine of $100 and 12 months' sentence on the second. The 18 months were suspended by Judge Jesse Wood.

A Statement of Aims

It is customary for banks to issue "Statements of Condition" at frequent intervals. It seems to us that a frank Statement of Citizens and Southern Purposes might be of equal interest to the Southeast.

We aim to give more than is customary in convenience, safety, personal interest, breadth of facilities and responsiveness. We have learned that when this is achieved, the public is quick to use more of our facilities—and our stockholders prosper accordingly.

Naturally, we look with satisfaction upon the history of our growth and hope for its continuance—just as every business house does. But we realize keenly that it is the personal contact, the loyalty and appreciation of the individual customer, that is our real source of growth and prosperity.

That is the reserve of good will that we value above all else—and endeavor to foster in all our relationships.

STEWART DENIED DIRECTED VERDICT

Washington, June 11.—(AP)—The motion of defense attorneys for a directed verdict of not guilty in the trial of Robert W. Stewart, charged with a misdemeanor for refusing to answer questions put by a senate committee was denied today by Justice S. D. Sutherland in the District of Columbia supreme court.

The jury was excused until tomorrow morning when Frank Hogan, chief of defense counsel, and Leo A. Rover, district attorney, said they would require the balance of the day for argument on motions for instruction.

Hogan refused exceptions when the court noted to direct a verdict for Stewart. He also moved for reconsideration of the ruling striking out Grantville, Ga., June 11.—(Special.)—Talks by John N. Holder, chairman of the state highway department; Searcy B. Stack, assistant highway engineer; and Morgan Blake, Atlanta newspaperman, will feature the celebration to be held in Grantville Tuesday when the new paving on highway No. 14 will be thrown open, opening to traffic a stretch of paved highway 96 miles long, running from Atlanta, Ga., to Fairfax, Ala. The Dunson Mill baseball team of LaGrange will engage the Grantville Stars in a baseball game in the afternoon.

The Grantville team will have in its lineup six of the regular players on the Tech team this season. A bar-becue will be served at 1 o'clock and thousands of persons are expected to be present. A street dance will be held Tuesday night.

TWO GIRLS HOPE TO START TODAY

Curries Field, L. T., June 11.—(AP)—With their monoplane, Columbia, fueled for the long flight to Europe, Miss Mabel Boll and her pilot, Captain Arthur Arles, and Captain Oliver C. Le Boutillier, rested all day in anticipation of favorable weather reports late tonight.

A lone mechanic appeared at the air-drome following upon a last minute postponement of the take-off early this morning, and worked on the motor.

FRIENDSHIP READY FOR LONG VOYAGE

Trepassey, N. F., June 11.—(AP)—A sudden break in the weather today brought hope of an early resumption of Miss Amelia Earhart's trans-Atlantic attempt, in the Fokker monoplane Friendship. When the sun broke through the fog after several days of unfavorable weather, Miss Earhart and her companions, Pilot Wilmer Stultz and Lon Gordon, mechanic, announced that they would fly tomorrow.

Throughout the day conditions continued to improve and tonight the fliers appeared jubilant over the imminent prospect of continuing their continued pending a definite decision in the matter by Judge Moore, Manley already has been convicted on one indictment, and sentenced, but an appeal on this case is still pending.

Might Cause Disturbance

Under examination by Solicitor General John A. Boykin, Dr. Campbell said that Manley is not a well man, has been under a mental strain for the past two years, and although probably would cause a disturbance if brought into court, he would live through the trial. "I do not consider Manley's condition dangerous or hopeless, but believe it wise to postpone his trial until fall, because of the hot days approaching. Under a change of environment and settlement of impending conditions, Manley will be able to attend his trial in a few months," Dr. Campbell declared.

Complications of Manley's condition are not far enough advanced to be fatal under excitement, Dr. Campbell said. He said that while Manley would not voluntarily walk into a courtroom, he could be brought into the court on a bed and could be made comfortable.

Telling of his visit to see Manley, Dr. Campbell said that the ex-banker on occasions threw open his mouth, opened his eyes, and rolled the balls upward. Under examination by Solicitor Boykin, he said that this might have been feigned. Dr. Campbell said that while Manley was watching him when Manley thought the physician's attention was directed elsewhere, the banker's eyes having been closed most of the time, he said.

Doubts Blood-Spouting

Dr. Campbell testified that his examination of Manley was interfered with frequently by voluntary jumps and jerks until he had to warn Manley that he could not find any existing disease if the jumps and jerks persisted. Dr. Campbell said that the great drop in blood pressure might have been caused by an overdose of a bromide.

Physicians put up the defense on Monday afternoon were Dr. Henry M. McGehee and Dr. Frank Boland.

was reported late this afternoon to be the cause of the delay. A recent illness earlier in the day, Colonel James F. Connel and Lieutenant Commander Joel T. Boone, white house physicians, decided that to embark upon a two-night railroad journey with the unfavorable temperature and weather conditions prevailing would be subjecting Mrs. Coolidge to an undue hardship.

Improvement noted in Mrs. Coolidge's condition during the day, however, was believed by white house officials to indicate that the postponement of the journey would be of only short duration.

Announcement of the postponement was withheld until practically the last minute since it was hoped that after all she might be in condition to undertake the trip. Pending recovery on the part of Mrs. Coolidge all preparations for departure will be maintained as they are ready for leaving Washington at the earliest possible time.

It was indicated at the white house that developments at the Kansas City convention would not affect plans for departure.

ing a filmy white lace dancing frock, in the grand march of Tech's Pan-Hellenic ball with other senior and junior representatives of the interfraternity council.

Dispersing at the early rays of the sun flashed in the eastern sky, foretelling that their wedding day would be shot to the core with sunshine, they have only to await the magic hour of evening when in a bower of madonnas lilies they will tread the orange blossom trail and plight their troth, this climactic sentimental romance begun last year when he first looked into her lovely brown eyes at the 1927 Pan-Hellenic ball.

Miss Madden is the younger daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Thomas Madden of 1250 West Peachtree street, and since her graduation from Girls' High school she has been an attractive figure and a social favorite among society's college set.

Mr. Barrett, widely known as one of the most popular men among the year's graduates at Tech, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles S. Barrett, prominent citizens of Tampa, Tex. A leading figure in college activities, he is a member of the Sigma Phi Epsilon fraternity and has held membership in such social organizations as the Cotillion club, the Footballs, and the Kosmo society. He also represented his fraternity in the Tech Pan-Hellenic council.

Following their wedding tonight, Mr. Barrett and his bride will leave for their home in Texas, where a charming new home, a wedding gift from the groom's father, awaits their arrival.

poration, and the American Natural Gas Corporation, will finance the enterprise. O'Brien & Co. have been actively identified with the financing of public utility properties throughout the country and are bankers for the Alabama Water Service company, now supplying water to a number of Alabama cities.

Contracts for a substantial gas supply in the Moultrie and Richland fields already have been made by the Southern Natural Gas corporation, it was said. These fields are generally considered to comprise the most extensive natural gas reserves in the United States, and are sufficient to meet the demands of the territory to be served by the new company for a great many years, the announcement said.

Natural gas is said to have about twice the heating value of the usual manufactured or by-product gas, and is highly desired by industries as a fuel and by domestic consumers for cooking and heating purposes. Engineers who have studied the situation have expressed the opinion that natural gas can be sold in this territory at prices which will make it attractive to industrial users now dependent upon coal and wood for their fuel.

A total of 892 miles of pipe will be required for the trunk line and the branches, it is estimated. The cost of the undertaking will involve approximately $25,000,000. The survey of the industrial requirements for natural gas in the southeastern states was made by the Hope Engineering & Supply Co. of M. Vernon, Ohio, and Arthur L. Mollerzgen, of Kansas City, Missouri.

Among the industrial districts to be served are those surrounding Jackson, Vicksburg, Yazoo and Macon, Miss.; Birmingham, Montgomery, Anniston, Alabama City, Atlanta, Tuscaloosa, Ala.; and Atlanta, Macon, Rome, Griffin, Cedartown, Barnesville, Forest, Jonesboro and Rockmart, Ga.

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—(AP)—With both sides girding armor for the battle before the credentials committee of the national republican convention tomorrow night, Glenn S. Skipper's temporarily seated Florida delegation went into caucus late today and perfected organization for the naming of national committeemen and committeewomen.

Nomination of representatives on the national committee was being until "we learn whether we are to be seated permanently," said W. R. O'Neal, Orlando, who was made chairman of the delegation.

Judge E. E. Calloway, Lakeland, was elected member of the convention's committee on credentials, which will decide the claims of the skipper and George W. Bean delegations on appeal of Bean faction from action of national committee, which temporarily seated Skipper delegates.

Judge Calloway, however, will not be eligible to vote on the contest involving his own delegation.

PLATFORM WORK NOW COMPLETED

BY JAMES L. WEST,
Associated Press Staff Writer.

Kansas City, June 11.—(AP)—While a tentative draft on the republican platform for 1928 was completed today by the administration group which has been at work here for nearly a week, some real fights over the individual planks are in prospect when the resolutions committee gets down to work late tomorrow to whip the party declaration into final form.

Whether the differences over the farm relief, prohibition and anti-corruption planks can be ironed out in committee still remained a matter of conjecture with some leaders frankly admitting the possibility of some of the controversies going to the floor of the convention itself for final determination.

Farm Relief Big Issue

Farm relief continued to stand out as the subject around which rages the greatest storm with the three conflicting elements still far apart on their views as to the form the declaration will take. Efforts still were being made to bring together the more "radical" and the rather conservative farm leaders on a plank.

One argument used was that those opposing the administration declaration as not going far enough toward meeting the agricultural situation should present a united front in the resolutions committee, as this would enhance the probabilities of success in overriding the administration forces which insist on an endorsement of President Coolidge's veto of the McNary-Haugen bill with its equalization fee.

This argument and others had not succeeded, however, in swerving the "radical" group from its course—that of demanding a plank which would declare for the equalization fee in specific terms rather than in such generalities as were used in the framing of the declaration by the American farm bureau federation.

Smoot Is Chairman

Senator Smoot of Utah, who will be chairman of the platform committee, today was in framing the tentative administration farm plank other than to reiterate that it contained a declaration for the equalization of tariff protection as between agriculture and industry. Such a provision is contained in one of the draft planks which Senator Borah, of Idaho, who is to be a member of the resolutions committee, brought here from Washington where he drew a number of proposed planks, some of which have received the endorsement of all the candidates for the presidential nomination save former Governor Frank O. Lowden, of Illinois.

Denying reports emanating from some quarters here, Senator Borah declared emphatically that his prohibition declaration—one of those approved by the candidates—did declare for rigid enforcement of the eighteenth amendment as well as all other sections of the constitution. The Idahoan was equally as emphatic in his declaration that there was no proposal against repeal of the prohibition amendment. It has been the position of Borah from the start that he was not opposed to efforts at repeal if made in conformity with law.

Dry Plank Satisfies

A copy of the prohibition plank was sent to Senator Smoot and it was stated that it had been satisfactory to him, although there was no word forthcoming as to whether he had adopted it in toto in framing the tentative platform. Other administration leaders said the form of the declaration was satisfactory to them.

NORCROSS POLICE PROBE MAN'S DEATH

Norcross, Ga., June 11.—(Special.) Mystery continued to surround the death of a man believed to be Ed Hewitt, whose body, the neck broken and a cash in the forehead, was found floating in the Chattahoochee river near here Sunday afternoon.

Police and sheriff's officers Monday were seeking clues as to the manner in which the man came to his death. An examination by Coroner Smith tended to indicate that he was slain before his body entered the water.

Identification of the body was partly made by several men who knew Hewitt, a recluse who lived on the river bottomland near here. They say he was last seen last Thursday afternoon walking away from Norcross in the direction of his home.

A coroner's inquest held Monday returned a verdict of death from causes unknown, which leaves the way open for further inquiry. The dead man was apparently about 45 years of age, and was clad in overalls, workman's shirt and shoes when found.

If you, too, have over-priced the Packard Six in your own thinking, we want to give you a pleasant surprise.

The Packard Six Five-Passenger Sedan, the most popular of all Packard cars, lists at only $2285 at the factory—other models from $2275 up.

You can actually buy a Packard Six and drive it four or five years at no greater cost than you would have to pay to purchase and trade in a $1500 car every two years or so.

May we give you an estimate on your used car based on the highest figure for which we can hope to sell it? If it is of average value it will make or exceed the down payment on your Packard. The balance can be paid on terms you will find very easy to meet.

300 TECH SENIORS RECEIVE DEGREES

With almost 300 awarded degrees and a large number receiving certificates and commissions, the Georgia School of Technology held its 30th annual commencement exercises on the campus at 10 o'clock Monday morning.

The program was featured by an address of J. J. Pelley, president of the Central of Georgia railroad, who gave the formal commencement address. The invocation was made by the Rev. W. W. Memminger, D. D., rector of All Saints' Episcopal church, and the valedictory address by William Thomas Dunkin, ex-Governor Nat E. Harris, president of the board of trustees, delivered the closing address.

Mr. Pelley cautioned the members of the graduating class to be honest in their personal and business dealings. "We of the Central of Georgia always have had a profound admiration for the Georgia School of Technology, because we have recognized in it a potent force for the upbuilding and development of the south," Mr. Pelley said.

"We have sought to cooperate with Tech in every possible way, and men are to receive diplomas today in the cooperative course in mechanical engineering, whose practical training has been received in our shops," he continued.

Mr. Pelley indicated the south as the future center of American industry, emphasizing the fact that the southward trend of industry was not caused by sentimentality, but by the growing awareness of the advantages of this part of the country.

Mr. Pelley's address was followed by the announcement that for the sixth consecutive year, Georgia Tech had won the Southern Intercollegiate Architectural competition. First place was won by Harold Hauber, of Massillon, Ohio, and second place by Montgomery Atwater, of Miami, Fla. The subject of the competition was "Restaurants in the South."

The subject matter was written by Professor Stephens, of Yale, and the contest was judged by the Yale architectural faculty.

Degrees and certificates were conferred by President M. L. Brittain, the conferring of commissions in the Reserve Officers' Training corps by Colonel Earle D'Arcy Pearce, and the conferring of Central of Georgia shop certificates by President Pelley. SIX CANDIDATES QUALIFY FOR RACE

Six candidates Monday night were entitled to vie for positions in the city government in the runoff primary to be staged June 20, and prospects for a five-cornered contest for the post of councilman from the third ward were bright with three avowed aspirants already in the field and two prospective ones looming.

While J. W. Rountree was the only qualified entrant for the third ward position which will be vacated by Councilman Ben T. Huie December 1 to accept the position of alderman on January 1, Cecil V. Whiddon, who Mr. Huie defeated, and John F.

J. W. ROUNTREE.

Pate, of 347 Grant street, have announced their candidacies. Fred Woodall, a former member of council from the ward and for several years an outstanding political figure, and E. N. Hendrix, a barber, were mentioned as probable candidates, and Monday night announced they are considering the importance of their friends and may become active candidates before the lists close at noon Wednesday.

Other qualified candidates for the runoff election are R. A. McMurry and F. B. Florence, for tax receiver; Joseph E. Berman and F. A. Hollingsworth, for council from the fourth ward, and Steve C. Glass, for city marshal. J. Ben Daniel, who was high vote getter in the primary, but who failed to muster the required majority of votes polled, is expected to qualify today.

Hyman M. Morris, defeated for nomination as school commissioner from the fourth ward by J. Ira Harrelson, Monday issued a statement thanking his friends and supporters for their efforts in his behalf.

Ed A. Gilliam, successful candidate for the nomination as alderman from the twelfth ward, also issued a statement in which he thanked those "who so loyally supported my candidacy and who made success possible."

"I made this race in order to be of service to people of Atlanta, and will keep my campaign pledge to use my best efforts to obtain many improvements throughout the city," Mr. Gilliam declared. "The memory of the many friends who supported my candidacy and who worked so tirelessly in my behalf always will be dear to me."

A series of meetings throughout the third ward will be held by friends of Mr. Rountree, it was announced Monday following a gathering at which a group of the candidate's friends attended.

A. E. Everett, chairman, announced that the first will be held at 7:30 o'clock Friday night, the place to be announced later.

The latest to be received was one of Colonel Richard A. Denny Rome, who served as attorney general under Governor Hugh Dorsey, filling the unexpired term caused by the resignation of Attorney General Clifford Walker.

YESTERDAY*336 Homes Burned
—in every one the fire started in the cellar

YESTERDAY 336 American homes were destroyed by fire. And all of these fires started in the cellar. The same thing happens every day in the year. Cellar fires alone cause an annual loss of 350 million dollars!

Seventy-five per cent of these fires could have been prevented—all of them could have been confined to the cellar—if the first floor had been built of concrete. Concrete cannot burn!

Don't risk the lives of your family—don't saddle yourself with unnecessary upkeep expense—when for little, if any more, you can build with concrete!

For best results use concrete made with good aggregate, just enough mixing water* and—Lone Star Cement. Before you buy your cement, ask the Building Material Dealer these four questions—the same questions engineers, architects and contractors ask when they buy cement. We give you the Lone Star answers.

1. Does the Cement exceed U. S. Government standards?
Every shipment of Lone Star Cement is guaranteed in writing to exceed U. S. Government standards. The Lone Star dealer, in turn, guarantees every bag to you.
2. How is the cement made?
Lone Star Cement is made by the famous International Wet-Blending Process, a process which has made cement-making an exact science and has established a new high standard of cement quality.
3. Is the cement uniform, bag for bag?
The chemical content of Lone Star Cement varies less than 2/10 of 1% in millions of bags—a new high standard of uniformity.
4. Are you certain to get delivery when wanted?
The 13 mills of the International System, with a capacity of 20 million barrels a year, assure "on-time" delivery, no matter how great the emergency.

It will pay you to buy cement on the basis of this comparison. Concrete will save you money. Lone Star concrete will save you more.

*The facilities of our Research Department, directed by Prof. Duff A. Abrams, are available to all users of cement. Write us your problems.

J. A. PERRY QUALIFIES FOR COMMISSION RACE

FOSTER PARENTS MUST FILE DATA WITH STATE BOARD

In cases where children are legally adopted in Georgia persons making the adoption must file with the state registrar of vital statistics a copy of the decree of adoption, it was announced Monday by the state board of health.

This requirement is made in an act approved August 8, 1921, and it compels the record of the child so that it always may be obtainable even when the place of birth and adoption is not known.

It was stated that in many cases a child's name is frequently changed when adopted and in this way its parentage identity is lost. By having a copy of the adoption decree filed with the state registrar of vital statistics such a case cannot happen because there is a cross index made to the child's birth certificate showing the adoption.

James A. Perry, chairman of the state public service commission, who recently announced his candidacy for reelection, qualified Monday as a candidate in the democratic primary when he paid his entrance fee to Mrs. Bessie Anderson, secretary of the state democratic executive committee.

Mr. Perry has served as chairman of the commission for two years and prior to that served many years as associate commissioner. He is a past president of the National Association of Railroad and Utility Commissioners. He also is a past grand master of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows. Mr. Perry has no opposition for reelection.

Although the entry books close June 23, only five candidates have qualified as with the secretary of the commission. These are Captain John W. Clark, state pension commissioner, candidate for reelection, and Judge J. J. Hunt, of Griffin, his opponent; Judge Marcus W. Beck, member of the Georgia supreme court; Judge R. E. Davison, chairman of the state prison commission, and Mr. Perry, chairman of the public service commission, all candidates for reelection.

NEW CIVIC CLUB TO MEET TODAY TO SELECT NAME

Atlanta's new civic club, organized expressly to work for a cleaner and more beautiful Atlanta, will meet at 4:30 o'clock this afternoon in the chamber of commerce to receive the report of the committee of judges appointed to select a name for the club out of a large number suggested by interested citizens.

The meeting was announced Monday by Mrs. J. R. Little, president, following a meeting of the committee of judges headed by Mrs. John Morris, Mrs. Little invited the attendance of all Atlantans who are interested in the purpose of the club.

The new organization was an outgrowth of the spring "clean-up" campaign sponsored by the Atlanta Woman's club and chamber of commerce under Mrs. Little's leadership. It recognized the necessity of year-around effort to accomplish its goal of making Atlanta the most cleanly and beautiful city in America.

ATLANTA ROTARY CLUB WILL CONVENE TODAY

The weekly luncheon of the Atlanta Rotary club will be held at 12:30 today at the Capital City club. An interesting program has been arranged by the committee in charge.

30 CITY PLAYGROUNDS OPEN TO YOUNGSTERS

Thirty municipal playgrounds were thrown open to thousands of Atlanta children at 9 o'clock Monday morning when youngsters between the ages of 4 and 16 years began their annual enjoyment of the swings, slides, sand boxes and merry-go-rounds furnished by the city park department. The grounds are to be open to the children from 9 to 11 o'clock in the mornings and from 3 to 6 o'clock in the afternoon every day except Monday.

Play groups and teams will be arranged in basketball, baseball and volleyball. A jackstone tournament is scheduled to take place later in the summer, and children are urged to practice up in the art of jackstone tossing.

The children attending the playgrounds will be watched by instructors equipped with first-aid kits, and everything possible will be done to insure the health and comfort of the children.

The day of opening was marked by no accidents other than the natural bruises and scratches, and playground leaders hope that the record will be maintained through the summer.

The Low Price of Frigidaire adds to its amazing value

BOARD ACTS TODAY ON SEPARATION OF HIGH SCHOOLS

Abrogation of a former action ordering consolidation of Boys' High and Tech High schools; enactment of a rule clamping a gag on members of the Atlanta board and other routine matters will be before the board at its regular June meeting at 3 o'clock this afternoon at city hall, it was announced Monday.

A special committee from the board will recommend that the board rescind its action in ordering the merger of the two boys' high schools, and will recommend that the institutions be operated as separate and distinct schools ultimately to be stationed on separate campuses.

John T. Hancock, school commissioner from the eighth ward, is chairman of the committee, which came to this decision following two public meetings at which proponents and opponents of the consolidation were represented.

The proposal to limit speaking by members of the board to five minutes is expected to prevent long-drawn-out meetings in the future. Predictions Monday were that the proposed new rule would meet with little or no opposition. It was offered at a special meeting of the board several weeks ago, and failed to pass unanimously when Dr. R. M. Eubanks, commissioner from the fourth ward, interposed an objection.

Substitutions of materials to be used in erection of the Grant Park, Morningside, Haywood-State, Edgewood and Whiteford Avenue schools in order to save school bond funds also will be up for consideration.

MRS. TODD DENIES PART IN SLAYING

Brunswick, Ga., June 11.—(AP)—A woman who a short time before had heard the man with whom she "was violently in love" accuse her as an accessory in the robbery of a bank and slaying of its cashier today took the stand in Glynn superior court to deny that she was an accessory to the plot.

Mrs. Mamie Lee Todd, facing a jury for the second time on charges as an accessory before and after the fact of murder of C. A. Perry, cashier of the Bank of Kingsland, Ga., took the stand just after the state rested. She emphatically denied being a party to the plot which led to the fatal shooting of Perry by two men now under death sentence for the killing. She also denied shielding Malcolm Morrow, with whom she was in love, and Homer Simpson, both of whom in April were convicted of murder and sentenced to be electrocuted. Although in love with Morrow, Mrs. Todd told the jury she stood in fear of him and that on many occasions he had threatened her life.

Morrow Threatened Her. She admitted making purchases of rubber gloves, chloroform and other articles used in the robbery, but said she bought them on Morrow's command and was unaware of how they were to be used.

Mrs. Todd told the jury that she told officers who came to her home at Jacksonville, Fla., that Morrow had not come to her home after the robbery and fatal shooting, when Morrow commanded her to do so under threat of death. Morrow was the principal state witness. "I know my end is near," he told the jury, "and while I do not desire to prosecute or persecute anyone, gentlemen, I am going to tell the truth." Morrow then related the details of the plot which culminated in the robbery and slaying. The plot was formed in Mrs. Todd's Jacksonville home with her knowledge, Morrow declared. A number of Jacksonville detectives and police officers preceded Morrow to the stand.

Arguments will begin on opening of court tomorrow and it was expected the case would go to the jury shortly after noon.

The jury in Mrs. Todd's previous trial was unable to reach a verdict. Appeal Is Planned. Wilson Bennett & Peck, Warcross law firm, announced today they are appealing the decision of Judge J. H. Thomas in the Morrow-Simpson trial to the Georgia supreme court.

Malcolm Morrow and Homer Simpson were convicted in the Glynn county superior court of conspiracy in connection with the death of C. A. Perry, cashier of the bank at Kingsland, and with the robbery of this bank. Both Morrow and Simpson were sentenced to death.

Saturday Judge J. H. Thomas, in chambers in Jessup, overruled a motion for a new trial. This decision is now being appealed. If the appeal reaches the supreme court before the spring docket is closed the case will be argued probably either in July or August. If it reaches the court after the closing of the spring docket it cannot be heard until the October term.

Overcast Skies But No Rainfall Seen for Today

Just enough clouds to make you drag the old slicker downtown but not enough to put it in use will be the rule today on the weather menu, C. V. von Herrmann, local meteorologist of the United States weather bureau, said Monday. In spite of the clouds, no immediate rain is in prospect. Today's temperatures will be slightly lower than those of Monday, it is thought. Monday's mercury ranged from a minimum reading of 68 degrees to a high mark of 82 degrees.

STATE CONTINUES TRIAL OF SLICER; WILL REST TODAY

Introduction of testimony by the state in the trial of J. S. Slicer, president of the bankrupt Colonial Trust company, on charges of fraudulent involuntary, was resumed Monday morning before Judge Virlyn B. Moore in Fulton superior court. The state probably will rest late today or early Wednesday, and the hearing is expected to occupy the remainder of the week, it was said.

Witnesses Monday were J. H. Ewing and Carlos Lynes, who were appointed as appraisers of the value of the assets of the defunct bank, and H. T. Green, a former bookkeeper of the Colonial Trust company.

Culpepper, pastor of the Capitol View church, and W. J. Burnsfield will preside over tonight's services. There will be no afternoon exercises until after Mr. Himebaugh's recovery, it was announced.

PRIMARY IN MONROE FAVORS INCUMBENTS

Forsyth, Ga., June 11.—The primary election held in Monroe county Saturday resulted in all the present officers being returned to office, with one exception. The election ended one of the most vigorously prosecuted campaigns ever held in Monroe county and was featured by a record vote, approximately 500 more votes being cast than in any previous primary. Two women, the first of their sex to offer for office in this county, went down in defeat.

Ordinary George W. Newton was reelected over Judge W. M. Clark by a majority of two votes. A recount probably will be asked for in this race, which may result in a change of figures for either of the contestants. Saturday night's figures gave Mr. Newton 873 and Judge Clark 871. Sheriff Cary Bittick won over James A. Tribble, 1,405 to 322. Tax Collector Seary was reelected over L. S. Hord, 1,197 to 545. In the tax receiver's race W. P. Callaway, incumbent, was defeated in a four-cornered race, the vote being Andrew Abercrombie, 473; W. P. Callaway, 418; Wiley King, 469; Mrs. Frank Wilder, 359. A runoff will be held for this office between Abercrombie and King.

Mrs. J. P. Sutton, candidate for school superintendent, was defeated by a vote of nearly one to one by the incumbent, Thomas D. Thurmond. The present board of county commissioners was returned to office by large majorities. The members constitute the board. Chairman C. A. Holmes led the ticket with 1,593 votes; A. M. Garr and J. A. Pennington received 1,461 and 1,387 votes, respectively, while J. Wade Mays and J. H. Thinnaze, candidates for two of the three places, received 449 and 450 votes each.

J. M. Fletcher defeated C. M. Taylor for state senator from this district by a vote of 1,023 to 705. Mr. Fletcher formerly represented Monroe county in the legislature, as did his opponent.

Resolutions of sympathy and regret over the death of Emma K. McDonnell were passed at a special meeting of the executive board of the Ella W. Smilie Parent-Teachers' association just before its adjournment until fall. Miss McDonnell had been a teacher at the Smilie school for 21 years.

The resolutions committee of the association, under the president, Mrs. M. Klausman, decided to have an expression of sorrow inscribed in the minute book of the association. It also decreed that a suitable memorial be erected in the school building in memory of Miss McDonnell's long service and constant friendship.

Mr. Chadwick, who is regional secretary, came at the request of the Withlacoochee council, to assist Scout Executive Emmette McKee in handling the camp work. The camp was initiated by 35 members of the local Boy Scouts and they will remain two weeks and will be succeeded by the Senior Scouts. A number of scoutmasters will be with the boys in camp during the period, alternating to assist Messrs. Chadwick and McKee.

3 SAFES CRACKED DURING WEEK-END

Charges of nitroglycerine cracked two safes over the week-end and in a third robbery enterprising yegmen carried off a heavy safe into the fastness of a wood, there dismembering it. The entire activity over the week-end netted cracksmen about $200.

Safes of the Gulf Refining Filling station at Lucile avenue and Gordon streets and of the Southern Stores company, operating the Piggy-Wiggy chain, were blown open.

HEAD OF GREETERS IS HONORED HERE

Allan G. Hurst, of the Astor hotel, New York, national president of the Greeters of America, an organization of more than 8,000 front office employees of the hotels of the country, addressed members of chapter 49, Greeters of Georgia, at an informal dinner in the Pine room of the Hotel Ansley.

President Hurst, en route to the national convention of the Greeters at El Paso, Texas, June 18 to 21, stopped in Atlanta on a swing around the southeast.

"The greatest work the Greeter organization has carried on," said Mr. Hurst, "is to place behind the desks of the hotels of the country, clean, efficient, courteous young men who are giving intelligent service to the traveling public today. Great fraternal organization which is non-political, non-sectarian."

"Greeterism," explained President Hurst, "is for the hotel operator as well as for the front office employee, clerk, auditor and all of the others whom we list. While the membership includes the name of practically every prominent hotel man in the industry, the organization is decidedly democratic and the clerk has just as much voice in the organization as the president of America's greatest chain of hotels."

The speaker paid tribute to Kurt Deikman, former manager of the Piedmont hotel in Atlanta, now managing the Dinkler hotel at East St. Louis, Ill., for his work in organizing the Greeters of Georgia, in conjunction with other prominent hotel men of the state. Mr. Deikman is a national vice president of the Greeters of America. Frank T. Reynolds, of the Hotel Ansley, was toastmaster.

Increased efficiency in operation of the United Palestine Appeal in its national campaign, now practically completed, was pointed out by Dr. Leo J. Frachtenberg, regional director of the Atlanta headquarters, Sunday, following receipt of the annual report from New York. Elimination of more than six per cent of expenses incurred in the raising of funds for rehabilitation of Palestine was shown in comparison with the preceding fiscal period.

The reduction of expenses in proportion to the money raised was the more significant in light of a decrease of nearly $200,000 in collections. Dr. Frachtenberg stated, "Although the major part of the work and expenses for the annual drive is over, only a small portion of the pledges has been paid in cash. This figure to date is $1,048,812.88, while last year during the same period the receipts were $2,121,248.85."

"Based on the cash receipts to date, the gross total expense is but 23 per cent, which means that when the year's collection on pledges is completed the expense will again be diminished to the small percentage that has marked the success of the U. P. A. drives," the southern director explained.

Improved organization of local campaigns was cited by Dr. Frachtenberg as one factor for the increased efficiency of U. P. A. work. "Zealous work on the part of the Jewish community of every locality participating in U. P. A. drives is to be credited as a chief cause in eliminating expenses," the director declared. "This condition could have been brought about only by one thing—increased interest in Palestine activities. During the past year some of the most outstanding Jews of the world have visited Palestine and surveyed the colonization and industrialization work there. Their unanimous prediction of success for the movement has spread renewed interest in Palestine throughout the world."

"This condition could have been brought about only by one thing—increased interest in Palestine activities. During the past year some of the most outstanding Jews of the world have visited Palestine and surveyed the colonization and industrialization work there. Their unanimous prediction of success for the movement has spread renewed interest in Palestine throughout the world."

Improved organization of local campaigns was cited by Dr. Frachtenberg as one factor for the increased efficiency of U. P. A. work. "Zealous work on the part of the Jewish community of every locality participating in U. P. A. drives is to be credited as a chief cause in eliminating expenses," the director declared. Cost of Palestine Fund Drive Reduced

Increased efficiency in operation of the United Palestine Appeal in its national campaign, now practically completed, was pointed out by Dr. Leo J. Frachtenberg, regional director of the Atlanta headquarters, Sunday, following receipt of the annual report from New York. Elimination of more than six per cent of expenses incurred in the raising of funds for rehabilitation of Palestine was shown in comparison with the preceding fiscal period.

The reduction of expenses in proportion to the money raised was the more significant in light of a decrease of nearly $200,000 in collections. Dr. Frachtenberg stated, "Although the major part of the work and expenses for the annual drive is over, only a small portion of the pledges has been paid in cash. This figure to date is $1,048,812.88, while last year during the same period the receipts were $2,121,248.85."

"Based on the cash receipts to date, the gross total expense is but 23 per cent, which means that when the year's collection on pledges is completed the expense will again be diminished to the small percentage that has marked the success of the U. P. A. drives," the southern director explained.

Improved organization of local campaigns was cited by Dr. Frachtenberg as one factor for the increased efficiency of U. P. A. work. 200 KIWANISANS LEAVE FOR SEATTLE MEETING

Approximately 200 Kiwanians from Georgia, Florida, and the Carolinas left Atlanta Monday afternoon for the annual convention of Kiwanis International, June 17-21, in Seattle, Wash.

The return route for the southerners will lie through California and Arizona, carrying them to the Grand Canyon and other famed scenic points in the far west. Albuquerque, N. M., and St. Louis,

Frank and Charlie Black Qualify Here for U. S. Open

Two Atlantans Tie With Score of 150

Black Fights Uphill Battle in Afternoon Round To Win Fight To Enter Open.

BY WHITNER CARY.

Two 150s, turned in by that season professional, Frank Black, of the East Lake club, and that brilliant young amateur, Charlie Black, of the same club, Monday, proved the magic numbers that will open the gates of the national open championship at Chicago next week to their eager charges.

Behind these two local golfers came a surging wave of star professionals and amateurs from this section whose high hopes, splendid game and great courage launched during the early morning hours in a valiant attempt to secure the two places open from this district in the American blue ribbon golfing event, had been met during the torrid hours that followed with the bitter efforts of a cruel East Lake course and the merciless vengeance of Old Man Par.

A Great Battle. It was a great battle that the two leading Atlanta entries waged to top the pack. Battles that found two entirely different stage settings, but which nevertheless were equally bitter fought. Frank Black, at lunchtime, with a 74, was tied for second place with Freddie Hyatt, of Charlotte; Al Ulmer, the sensational Jacksonville amateur, showed the way to this pair of professionals by one stroke. Ball had but to repeat that morning round and by all the rules of pre-qualifying done he would get under the wire as a winner. On the other hand Charlie Black faced that second round with the clammy hand of a 77 crashing his trusty clubs and with the clear-cut proposition of having to clip several strokes off that rather high figure if he wished to enter the charmed circle.

During the first nine holes of the afternoon round Ball took but 37 strokes, one over par. That was golf that if it could be sustained would land him a place without much trouble.

Then came the tenth and the East Lake professional dropped a stroke to par. The twelfth saw him lose another. He played the thirteenth and fourteenth in perfect figures and was again coasting in the general direction of the heights when the usual fifteenth and a couple of indifferent strokes beset his pathway. After getting a good drive on the 16th, he topped his second and put his third in the trap guard and the green. At that stage in the proceedings the professional, who had been pretty well tied for the loss of many more strokes to par would make him see the open championship from the sport group of the papers. His explosion shot that followed as good as brought him a ticket to Chicago, it rolled within a foot of the hole and enabled him to get a par five when a few moments before an ugly six and a possible seven loomed in his mind.

There on he lost but one stroke to par to finish with a 150, which tied the mark set by Black a few minutes before.

Had Little Trouble. Ball found little trouble with his drives and irons, but his putting touch lacked some of its usual accuracy. Had his putter obeyed him a little better he would have clipped several strokes off his score.

Charlie Black, who was off to a rather poor start in the morning and whose 77 gave his friends much concern, came back with a 74 in the afternoon. He started off none too well in the last round, however, dropping a stroke to par on both the second and third holes. From that point on, he was Charlie Black, the really brilliant golfer, facing a crucial test and meeting it in a most one-way way. He played the fourth, sixth and seventh holes in perfect figures and annexed birdies at the fifth and eighth to bring him to the ninth with a par five for a 36. His second on this hole was just short of the green and his beautiful chip left him a putt of not over 14 inches for a birdie four. And then Charlie promptly proceeded to miss that putt.

Not dissuaded by this, however, and realizing that another nine holes of near-par golf would probably land him a place, Charlie shot the first four holes of the return trip in par figures. He followed at the fourteenth with a birdie, Charlie was having just a wee bit of trouble with his drives, but was making up for any uncertainty with the wood by some of the most brilliant iron play and accurate putting as ever came from his clubs.

Par Golf. With victory now almost assured he knocked off par figures at the fifteenth and sixteenth. His record found the side of the trap guarding the seventeenth and he went one perfect figure on this hole and then finished by taking a four at the home green.

Thus did Charlie Black get his first crack at a major title. The sound, splendid game that he has flashed in the past few years and which has enabled him to win the national amateur championship, Bobby Jones, and that sterling professional, Frank Black, Atlanta will be well represented with these three great golfers.

As is the case in all golf competition, there were many heartaches along the way. Take for example Al Ulmer, who started the assembled field with a sensational 73 in the morning only to fall by the wayside in the afternoon with a 79.

Freddie Hyatt, the popular Charlotte pro, who was right at Ulmer's heels at lunch time with a scoring 74, found his putter playing him false in the afternoon and a 79 was the answer.

Jimmy Thompson, the Knoxville pro, made a strong bid in the afternoon. His morning round of 74 was followed by a 77 in the afternoon, but he was unable to repeat that morning round and by all the rules of pre-qualifying done he would get under the wire as a winner. On the other hand Charlie Black faced that second round with the clammy hand of a 77 crashing his trusty clubs and with the clear-cut proposition of having to clip several strokes off that rather high figure if he wished to enter the charmed circle.

During the first nine holes of the afternoon round Ball took but 37 strokes, one over par. That was golf that if it could be sustained would land him a place without much trouble.

Then came the tenth and the East Lake professional dropped a stroke to par. The twelfth saw him lose another. He played the thirteenth and fourteenth in perfect figures and was again coasting in the general direction of the heights when the usual fifteenth and a couple of indifferent strokes beset his pathway. After getting a good drive on the 16th, he topped his second and put his third in the trap guard and the green. At that stage in the proceedings the professional, who had been pretty well tied for the loss of many more strokes to par would make him see the open championship from the sport group of the papers. His explosion shot that followed as good as brought him a ticket to Chicago, it rolled within a foot of the hole and enabled him to get a par five when a few moments before an ugly six and a possible seven loomed in his mind.

There on he lost but one stroke to par to finish with a 150, which tied the mark set by Black a few minutes before.

Had Little Trouble. Ball found little trouble with his drives and irons, but his putting touch lacked some of its usual accuracy. Had his putter obeyed him a little better he would have clipped several strokes off his score.

Charlie Black, who was off to a rather poor start in the morning and whose 77 gave his friends much concern, came back with a 74 in the afternoon. He started off none too well in the last round, however, dropping a stroke to par on both the second and third holes. From that point on, he was Charlie Black, the really brilliant golfer, facing a crucial test and meeting it in a most one-way way. He played the fourth, sixth and seventh holes in perfect figures and annexed birdies at the fifth and eighth to bring him to the ninth with a par five for a 36. His second on this hole was just short of the green and his beautiful chip left him a putt of not over 14 inches for a birdie four. And then Charlie promptly proceeded to miss that putt.

Not dissuaded by this, however, and realizing that another nine holes of near-par golf would probably land him a place, Charlie shot the first four holes of the return trip in par figures. He followed at the fourteenth with a birdie, Charlie was having just a wee bit of trouble with his drives, but was making up for any uncertainty with the wood by some of the most brilliant iron play and accurate putting as ever came from his clubs.

With victory now almost assured he knocked off par figures at the fifteenth and sixteenth. His record found the side of the trap guarding the seventeenth and he went one perfect figure on this hole and then finished by taking a four at the home green.

Thus did Charlie Black get his first crack at a major title. The sound, splendid game that he has flashed in the past few years and which has enabled him to win the national amateur championship, Bobby Jones, and that sterling professional, Frank Black, Atlanta will be well represented with these three great golfers.

As is the case in all golf competition, there were many heartaches along the way. Take for example Al Ulmer, who started the assembled field with a sensational 73 in the morning only to fall by the wayside in the afternoon with a 79.

Freddie Hyatt, the popular Charlotte pro, who was right at Ulmer's heels at lunch time with a scoring 74, found his putter playing him false in the afternoon and a 79 was the answer.

Jimmy Thompson, the Knoxville pro, made a strong bid in the afternoon. His morning round of 74 was followed by a 77 in the afternoon, but he was unable to repeat that morning round and by all the rules of pre-qualifying done he would get under the wire as a winner. On the other hand Charlie Black faced that second round with the clammy hand of a 77 crashing his trusty clubs and with the clear-cut proposition of having to clip several strokes off that rather high figure if he wished to enter the charmed circle.

Pan-Hellenic Ball Brings Tech Commencement To Close

The Pan-Hellenic costume ball given Monday evening in the college gymnasium brought to a brilliant climax the festivities featuring Georgia Southern Techology annual commencement, which assembled hundreds of visitors from every part of the country. Walter James, president of the organization with Miss Cornelia Orme, and Cy Savage with Miss Mary Mosely as his partner, led the ball, these popular members of the college set introducing many graceful figures. Miss Orme wore white chiffon, fashioned in bouffant effect, the décolletage bodice garlanded in white garlands. Miss Mosely was gowned in white tulle, the skirt tiered in ruffles, and the tulle bodice was tight fitting. Mr. James and Mr. Savage wore white trousers, and a white silk shirt, and gold colored tie, white gold satin shoes made a colorful contrast, and brought out the college colors, gold and white.

Climaxing the evening's brilliant entertainment was the grand march, participated in by junior and senior representatives of the interfraternity council and an equal number of young belles. Favors for the grand march were copies of the Tech annual, the "Blue Print," handsomely bound in white leather and lettered in gold.

The chaperones for the occasion included Dr. and Mrs. M. L. Brittain, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph S. Raine, Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Orme, Mr. and Mrs. Nora Ernest Northern, Mrs. Frank Orme, Judge and Mrs. Noel Park, Mrs. F. B. Eckford, Mrs. John Raine, Dr. and Mrs. Vernon Skiles, Mrs. Edward Van Winkle.

Striking Costumes.
Miss Irene Bohon, of Harrodsburg, Ky., was a striking figure wearing a diamond fully costume fashioned in black and white chiffon sparkling with rhinestones. Miss Jane Lynch, of New York, was a beautiful figure wearing gypsy pajamas.

Miss Mamie Raine's costume of billowy pink and white tulle ruffles typified a circus rider. Miss Margaret Anderson's costume represented a Spanish dancer. A high, bright red comb from which fell an exquisite black lace costume made with a short skirt of brilliant red satin and a vivid green satin bolero. A white china silk blouse. Large hoop earrings and a jeweled bandeau completed the attractive costume.

Miss Dorothy Raine represented a Japanese maiden wearing a lavishly embroidered blue satin kimono. Miss Lonia Foster, of Valdosta, was a lovely figure wearing a costume of crimson tulle.

Miss Helen Miller was among the visiting belles, wearing an evening gown of black satin encrusted with rhinestones.

Miss Gates Eckford was lovely in a "kid" costume of blue gingham made with apron skirt and bloomers showing below the hemline. A white organza sash offset the youthful model. On her hair, which was worn in curls, she wore a large blue ribbon.

Miss Florence Eckford, who took part in the figure, wore a straight line model of white chiffon, fashioned with skirt simulating flower petals edged with rhinestones.

Adding to the bevy of handsome costumes and gowns, Miss Charlotte Wynne wore a sleeveless bouffant model of pink satin, fashioned with tight bodice and full skirt, offset with a novel grade of silver ribbon. The effective "V" neckline was a feature of the lovely gown.

Miss Margaret Arnold, who took part in the figure, was gowned in white chiffon, fashioned with tight bodice and full skirt offset with an effective white sash.

Miss Louise Madden was a charming old-fashioned belle, wearing a costume of pompadour silk over a lace petticoat.

Miss Jane Tway wore an exquisite evening gown fashioned of shell pink satin.

Miss Patty Porter wore an elaborately embroidered Chinese costume.

Miss Mary Meador Goldsmith impersonated a Dutch girl by wearing a blue satin costume.

Miss Ethel Woodruff, of Columbus, wore a dancing rock of pink tulle, fashioned with a bodice of pink satin. Miss Frances Boykin was a picturesque Italian peasant, wearing the typical full red skirt, intricately covered with a small white apron, and red bodice elaborately laced in front with red and gold cord, the sleeves of the bodice, full and flared, being caught at the wrists with similar red and gold cord. The flaring Italian headpiece, ornamented with bands of green and gold, completed the charming costume.

Misses Mary Verren, of Moultrie; Laura Waddell, of Columbus; Elizabeth Quinney, of Waynesboro; Cynthia Chappelle, of Columbus; Elizabeth Teasler, of Valdosta; Elizabeth Hall, of Athens; Helen Williams, of Miami, Fla.; Virginia Walthour, of Savannah; Mary Lamar Jackson, of Orlando, Fla.; and Martha Mallory, of Selma, Ala., were a group of popular visitors wearing attractive costumes.

40,000 Slain; Killers at Large
According to a national health magazine, flies cause 40,000 deaths every year. More than 6,000,000 germs have been found on a single fly. These germs breed into billions of others.

The fly is disgusting. It is born in filth. It eats anything. It flies from the cesspool and the garbage can to the hospital and the morgue, and then often into the home.

In the light of these facts, one of the strangest phenomena in human history is the attitude of careless indifference on the part of many people toward these germ-bearing assassins that are at work 24 hours every day.

Fore-sighted people have found in Kill-Ko the quickest and surest method of killing flies. Its vapor gas, while harmless to humans, animals, furniture and fabrics, reaches them in the cracks and corners where they live. Priced 50c and 75c at your drug or grocery store. Sold only in the blue bottle.—Rigo Manufacturing Co., Nashville, Tenn.—(adv.)

They alternated their appearance at the piano, in groups of two and three numbers. Young Stodghill's numbers included "C Minor Prelude," "Ave Marie Prelude," and Gavotte and Menuette, all by Bach; the Clement No. 4 Sonatina and closed the program with a Schumann group, "The Wild Rosemaid," "Strange Landscapes and Princes Ruppel." BURGESS CHILDREN'S STORIES

SHADOW TORMENTS CUBBY.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

Who tenses and tortures, I wren, In disposition is most mean. —Old Mother Nature.

Cubby was angry clear through. There never was an angrier small bear. Shadow the Weasel had nipped one of Cubby's heels and it had hurt. But it wasn't the pain that made Cubby lose his temper so much as the impudence of Shadow, the Weasel.

"I'll eat you alive!" roared Cubby. "Come on, do!" retorted Shadow. "What are you waiting for?"

Cubby wasn't waiting. He was rushing madly at Shadow, now here and now there, and growing angrier every minute. You see, it made him angry to be teased in this way, and Shadow certainly was teasing him.

"Why don't you stand still and fight?" growled Cubby. "Because I can fight better moving," replied Shadow, and nipped Cubby's other heel.

That was a funny fight. It was a good deal like Jack and the Giant Cubby was ever and ever so many times bigger than Shadow. It was perfectly absurd to think of such a little fellow as Shadow fighting with Cubby. But the funny part of it was that Shadow was having all the best of it. His teeth were small, but they were sharp, and he moved so quickly that never once could Cubby even touch him. Each time Cubby jumped for Shadow and was sure he had him. Shadow wouldn't be there. It was very irritating, not to say provoking.

To make matters worse, Blacky the Crow and Sammy Jay had discovered what was going on, and they were chucking all manner of fun of Cubby. Yes, indeed, they were making all manner of fun of Cubby. And all the time Shadow kept right on tormenting Cubby. The fact is, Shadow was beginning to enjoy it. You see, he knew that he could get away at any time. He knew that there was nothing really nothing to fear. And it pleased him to think that he was making one so much bigger than himself so very uncomfortable.

But Shadow, the Weasel, never can do anything very long at a time. After a bit he grew tired of teasing Cubby. Besides he had worked off some of the rage which had taken possession of him when Farmer Brown's boy had frightened off the Woodcock. So he Cubby a last good hard nip and then vanished in a little hole under a stump.

WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR DUCHESS TELLS OF EXPENSES EN ROUTE TO INDIA

Washington, June 11.—(AP)—Mrs. Lillian F. Feickert, prohibition candidate for United States senator in the recent primary in New Jersey, received $3,263.13 in contributions and spent all of it, she today told the Reed campaign funds committee.

Mrs. Feickert who said she made her race "without any hope of being nominated" said she had received 26,000 votes.

"I know that the time has not come for any woman to be elected to the office," she testified, "but I had an opportunity to bring my views before the people."

The woman candidate charged before the committee that Senator Edge, New Jersey, had supported two republican candidates in the primary, one personally and another through the republican organization. The senator, she said, personally was for Edward C. Stokes while the organization's candidate, Hamilton Fish Keen, was the victor.

Mrs. Feickert told the committee that she received the $3,263.13 through her manager, Jennie Precker, who had received the contributions.

Edward W. Gray, of Newark, who ran as a wet candidate in the primary, receiving 25,000 votes, spent $3,200, she told the committee, and the money came from individual contributions and he spent no money of his own.

Gray said.

Gray attributed his small vote to the fact that he did not have $50,000 to inform the people that he was running on a platform to repeal the eighteenth amendment.

Stokes spent only $14,000 in his campaign, John E. Gill, dean of Rutgers University, Trenton, his manager, told the committee. Contributions amounted to $16,300.

ADMIRAL COONTZ RETIRES FROM NAVY AFTER 46 YEARS

Norfolk, Va., June 11.—(AP)—Final arrangements for the ceremony this afternoon marking the retirement of Admiral Robert E. Coontz from the service to which 46 years of his life have been devoted were being completed this morning at the Hampton naval operating base. The flag of the one-time commander-in-chief of the United States fleet and chief of naval operations will be hoisted down at 2:30 o'clock this afternoon.

Admiral Coontz will shortly leave Norfolk for Annapolis, Md., where, as the guest of Senator Harry H. Hawes, of Missouri, he will fish for tarpon. He will then attend a democratic national convention to urge adoption of a strong preparedness plank, then he will join his wife and daughter on a European tour, returning to the United States in September to begin preparation of his memoirs.

We believe the insistent needs of agriculture should receive immediate and careful consideration of all representatives of the republican party who are charged with the enactment and administration of national laws; the earliest possible relief to the great industry of agriculture and the effective protection of that industry equal to the protection given the other industries by our tariff system. This we deem to be imperative for the preservation of that great industry and to be essential to the welfare of the nation and our party."

KLINCK MUST STAND TRIAL FOR ALLEGED FALSE AFFIDAVIT

Indianapolis, June 11.—(AP)—Earl Klinck, of Evansville, Ind., must stand trial in criminal court here on a charge of procuring a false affidavit reparation testimony given by William Rogers before the Reed senatorial campaign investigating committee at St. Louis, Judge Thomas E. Garvin ruled today. Garvin said that Klinck's change of venue filed by Klinck's attorneys last Saturday after a jury had been obtained.

Rogers had testified before the Reed committee that he had seen an "imperial passport" of the Ku Klux Klan bearing the name of Senator James E. Watson. The alleged forged affidavit repudiated this statement and declared Rogers had been paid to give this testimony in order to embarrass Senator Watson. Rogers later denied making the affidavit.

FLORIDA SECRETARY STARTS VOTE COUNT

Tallahassee, Fla., June 11.—(AP)—Secretary of State H. Clay Crawford today began the somewhat tedious task of tabulating the official returns from the recent democratic primary.

Assisted by Chief Clerk John P. Deane, Mr. Crawford began to take up county by county the vote for each state and legislative office, and sheet record the vote upon a tabulation sheet about six feet long and four feet wide. Something like a dozen counties had reported officially upon the primary at the close of business today. As soon as the tabulation is completed, Mr. Crawford will call a meeting of the state canvassing board, when the exact results of the primary will be proclaimed.

THREE ARE HURT AS PLANE FALLS AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—(AP)—Melvin C. Anderson, 18-year-old Orchard, Maine, pilot, and Hyram Crowther, 21, of Montreal, Canada, and James W. Tudhope, Northampton, Va., flying students, were injured in an airplane crash here today when Anderson attempted to loop and fell into a spin at 1,500 feet. Crowther and Tudhope suffered skull fractures, and Anderson a cut his leg and possible concussions.

The Daily Express stated that a telegram had been received from Captain C. D. Barnard, pilot for the duchess, saying that they had arrived safely at Sofia, 1,200 miles distant, in their plane, the Princess Xenia.

The fact that the flyers narrowly escaped a crash at the start in a high wind and that they had long been on reported caused some fear for their safety.

The plane ran along the ground for 700 yards before it rose. It took the air 75 yards from a road lined with telegraph wires and cut through four of these wires, leaving them dangling. Apparently this checked the plane, for it just cleared a farm house. Afterwards, however, it began to climb steadily and flew in a normal manner toward the sea.

The duchess plans to make the flight to India in four stages, halting at Aleppo, Moscow, and London. The first air freight from England to India will be in return for the plane, and it will be a normal manner toward the sea.

The Princess Xenia was flown by Captain G. H. Macmillan, of the Royal Air Force, who had been in England for a non-stop distance flight record when the plane came down in Poland.

CURTIS NOT CANDIDATE FOR VICE PRESIDENT

Kansas City, June 11.—(AP)—The stand taken by Senator Curtis against suggestions of his being vice presidential candidate on the Ku Klux ticket was emphasized by him today when he said he did not "care whether or not Hoover is elected."

"I am a candidate for president and not vice president," declared the Kansas senator. His statement was directed toward the Ku Klux Klan, which attributed the responsibility for the vice presidential ticket.

Senator Curtis said he had submitted a tentative agricultural plank for the party platform adding that it had been called to the attention of the chairman of the committee.

He noted that it had not been presented with a demand for its inclusion, but rather for consideration along with others.

The draft, the Kansas said, had been proposed by him for a state platform two years ago read:

"We recognize that because of the wide expanse of our country, the industrial needs of one section may be different from those of another section. Therefore, we regard it to be the special duty of our party to be alert to protect agriculture."

We believe the insistent needs of agriculture should receive immediate and careful consideration of all representatives of the republican party who are charged with the enactment and administration of national laws; the earliest possible relief to the great industry of agriculture and the effective protection of that industry equal to the protection given the other industries by our tariff system. FIVE-YEAR-OLD BOY TO CHECK POPULARITY OF 13-MONTH IDEA

New York, June 11.—(AP)—A nation wide inquiry to find out whether people would prefer 13 equal months in every year to 12 of uneven length is to be begun at once, George Eastman of Rochester, N. Y., announced on his return from abroad today on the Le.

Mr. Eastman is chairman of the national committee on calendar simplification for the United States, formed at the invitation of the League of Nations, which recommended similar action in other countries.

Formation of the American committee was suggested in a letter to Secretary of State Kellogg from the governor general of the League of Nations. As this country is not a member of the league and therefore not in a position to participate, Mr. Kellogg turned the matter over to Mr. Eastman, who has long been an advocate of calendar simplification. He saw no obstacle to the forming an unofficial committee and securing the unofficial cooperation of government departments, he said.

LOWDEN DELEGATES SHOW CONFIDENCE

BY RAYMOND Z. HENLE, Associated Press Staff Writer.

Kansas City, June 11.—(AP)—The personality of Frank Lowden was the main spring in holding together delegates today in the face of a warning hope that he can be nominated in the face of an avalanche of Herbert Hoover sentiment.

He continued to greet hundreds of friends and delegates in his hotel apartment and to tell them to keep up the battle, but at his headquarters a less optimistic attitude was in evidence.

His campaign manager, Clarence F. Buck, declined flatly to see newspapermen. When the word was sent him that verification or denial was desired of a report that there were defections from the Lowden delegates from Illinois, Buck sent back the information that he had no statement to make.

Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, one of the leading Lowden workers, and spokesman for the "defeat Hoover coalition," was at her office scarcely at all today and it was explained that she was in conference with L. L. Emmerson, coalition generalissimo. The latter halfheartedly refused to respond to questions regarding the Lowden situation.

"Nothing to Say." "There absolutely is nothing to say at this time," he declared.

At Lowden headquarters a large crowd still milled about but the free predictions of last night that the Illinois man would win were lacking. The delegates and workers for Lowden talked in a mournful tone of the chances of the republican party in November with Hoover the standard-bearer.

"How about swinging to Curtis?" one worker was heard to say in the center of Lowden headquarters.

"Oh, no," was the reply from one of the Lowden leaders. "We're going to stick and see this through."

That conversation appeared to typify the attitude of the headquarters, the feeling of defeat but determination to see their man through to the end.

There was some speculation as to whether pledged Lowden delegates would turn to Hoover after the first ballot should the cabinet member show great strength but not be named on the initial tally. The report, however, that some of the Illinois Lowden people already have decided to forsake Lowden in favor of Hoover was definitely denied in all responsible Illinois circles.

Hoover May Get Iowa Votes.

Similar reports have seeped out from the Iowa Lowden people and have been promptly denied. There is no doubt, however, that some of the Iowa delegates expect to turn to Hoover if a number of ballots should show Lowden to be without sufficient strength.

To some extent this situation also obtains in Minnesota, although no member of the delegation from that state cared to comment for publication on Hoover sentiment there.

As the Lowden workers sought to hold their ranks and keep up the courage among the workers, Lowden himself gave no sign of giving up the fight. He appeared somewhat wearied today by the steady streams of callers he met, but he had a cheerful word for them all. Among those who called was Representative Dickinson, of Iowa, one of the leaders in the congressional farm relief battle.

Other farm leaders were busy working on the demand for "equality for agriculture" as their badges declare, which they will place before the resolutions committee. A wing of the farm leaders is inclined to make a McCarry-Haugen bill or nothing fight, but many of the recognized leaders such as George N. Peek, Governor McMullen, of Nebraska, and Senator Watson, of Indiana, are insisting that the demand state merely the principles of the McCarry-Haugen bill and not the name of the measure itself, nor any mention of the equalization fee.

Jackson Appointed Head of Mississippi River Commission

Washington, June 11.—(AP)—Colonel Thomas H. Jackson, of the engineers corps, was given a recess appointment by President Coolidge today to head the Mississippi river commission, succeeding Colonel Charles L. Potter.

Colonel Potter was retired on account of age. As president of the Mississippi river commission Jackson automatically will become a member of the board created under the flood control bill to decide upon a uniform plan for flood control work in the Mississippi valley.

SMITH LEADS REED IN W. VA. CONTEST

Charleston, W. Va., June 11.—(AP)—Senator Guy D. Goff had a majority of 19,465 over Secretary of Commerce Herbert Hoover in the republican presidential preference contest in West Virginia complete official returns today showed. The vote was: Goff, 128,465; Hoover, 109,020.

In the democratic preferential contest the official count gave Governor Al Smith, of New York, a majority of 5,763 over Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri. The vote was: Smith, 51,739; Reed, 45,976. The Rev. Alonzo F. Workman, of Joplin, Mo., also entered in the democratic race, polled 5,789 votes.

METHODIST LEADER IS BURIED AT COLLEGE

Conway, Ark., June 11.—(AP)—The body of Dr. Stonewall Anderson, late general secretary of the Methodist board of education and one of the foremost Methodist educators, today was laid to rest in the shadow of his alma mater, Hendrix college.

Dr. Anderson was president of Hendrix college from 1902 to 1910. He died at Nashville, Tenn., Friday night following a sudden heart attack.

THREE ARE HURT AS PLANE FALLS AT KANSAS CITY

Kansas City, Mo., June 11.—(AP)—Melvin C. Anderson, 18-year-old Orchard, Maine, pilot, and Hyram Crowther, 21, of Montreal, Canada, and James W. Tudhope, Northampton, Va., flying students, were injured in an airplane crash here today when Anderson attempted to loop and fell into a spin at 1,500 feet. Crowther and Tudhope suffered skull fractures, and Anderson a cut his leg and possible concussions.

The Daily Express stated that a telegram had been received from Captain C. D. Barnard, pilot for the duchess, saying that they had arrived safely at Sofia, 1,200 miles distant, in their plane, the Princess Xenia.

The fact that the flyers narrowly escaped a crash at the start in a high wind and that they had long been on reported caused some fear for their safety.

The plane ran along the ground for 700 yards before it rose. It took the air 75 yards from a road lined with telegraph wires and cut through four of these wires, leaving them dangling. Apparently this checked the plane, for it just cleared a farm house. Afterwards, however, it began to climb steadily and flew in a normal manner toward the sea.

THEATER REVIEWS

Williams Players Present Season's Greatest Success

BY PAUL STEVENSON.

Robert Williams and his associate players reached a new high mark in their Atlanta engagement Monday night at the Atlanta theater in "The Noose." Willard Mack's powerful and tense drama, and presented by far the most finished production they have offered since they reopened this theater. Although "The Noose" is a sinister title and the play itself is at times grim and sordid, it is by no means his last step upon the fatal trap. But it is a chain of circumstances reaches its last link just in time to snatch the young man, or rather a mere boy, from death on the gallows tree and provides him that one of the most unusual and well-acted scenes in the history of the theater.

For relief from such a tense play on these emotions there is a great second act provided which presents a picture, painted with deft touch, of a modern criminal operation. There are bootleggers, crooked prohibition agents, gamblers, high jacks, cabaret artists, dancers and all the other denizens of the modern night life of a big city. Incidentally the author takes a few sharp shots at conditions produced by the Volstead law as well as at capital punishment in general.

In "The Noose," the Robert Williams Players showed to the best advantage of any of their productions. Mr. Williams, himself, was perfect in the role of Nickie Elkins, a youth who never had a chance and who is the central figure in the grim execution which almost takes place. In "The Noose," Mr. Williams is a far different kind of an actor than in some of his other productions. He plays a heavy and serious part which is just the opposite of the Volstead law usually essays and it is this to his credit that he played admirably.

Miss Nina Penn, Felix Krens and Miss Isabel O'Madigan are provided with great parts. Miss Penn, in the dressing room of the cabaret, plays the role of a dancer and draws on her musical comedy training to produce a finished dance which drew sustained applause. She combines the role of dancer with the role of the condemned Nickie with delicate artistry and is ideal in such a part. While her dance was one of the hits of the evening her acting, particularly in the last scene, was of a highly finished nature. Mr. Krens played the role of the governor of a state upon whose shoulders rests the responsibility of saving the life of the condemned youth or permitting him to die on the gallows. With his usual power and grace he was perfect in such a role. He looked and acted more like a governor than a real governor. His work in "The Noose" adds another great role to the many he has played in Atlanta this season.

In a role of much emotional power Miss O'Madigan was superb. She gave it just the proper shading and had sufficient opportunities to demonstrate the sterling ability she possesses. "The Noose" brought excellent roles for some of the other members of the company. Joseph Selman, as the master crook, performed ably. Louis Lytton, as a cabaret proprietor, added another fine role to the way he has portrayed here. Richmond Kent was perfect as a crooked dry agent. Bob Robinson was adequate in every way as the director of the cabaret performers. Incidentally these performers themselves, recruited from amateur ranks in Atlanta, turned in some work that approached that done by professionals in such plays as "Broadway" and others seen here during the current season. Miss Barbara Jo Allen and Edwin Maxwell were up to their usual high standard in supporting roles. Neil Cornell, Edgar Henning and Betty Alden were good in minor roles.

The staging was perhaps the best of any of the productions and reflected the ability of A. H. Van Buren, the new director. Taken as a whole "The Noose" is the best play offered during the current season by the Robert Williams players.

COMEDIAN HEADS STRONG PROGRAM AT LOEW'S GRAND

Johnnie Berkes, grotesque comedian, headlines the new vaudeville bill at Loew's Grand theater this week, assisted by pretty Virginia Sully, who brings a comedy dance and music which is far different from the ordinary run. He does one comedy dance that is absolutely new around these parts. Berkes is decidedly original in his humor, and produces an act that has plenty of new stuff of the pantomime variety in it.

Sharing honors with the headlines is the comedy duo, and it certainly deserves the applause it received Monday night. Here is a big dance presentation offered with such beautiful settings, costumes and effects that the audience applauds soon after the curtain rises. In the act are a boy and girl dancers who win unusually generous plaudits, and a boy who does a human top-spinning act that gets a big hand. A mixed quartet in several pretty songs and dances, and a special musical director is carried with the attraction, which is one of the most pleasing of the "revue" type of acts seen here recently.

Bobby and King are all-around knockout comedians, musicians and acrobats who offer a lot of quantity at any rate. The quality is not so bad, and two people who can turn somersaults, play pianos and musical instruments, dance and sing are versatile, to say the least. Bernice and Pansy, "Two Southern Melody Maids" are also versatile girls, and present a pleasing musical act. They play saxophones, clarinets, accordions, guitars and the piano, and also offer some harmony songs that pleased.

The opening act is Nelson's Kat-

Sugar.

New York, June 11.—Raw sugar was changed today, no sales reported and pri appointed by the failure of demand for sweet sugar to broaden to any appreciable extent and continued inactivity in the spot market, seemed responsible for renewal of long liquidation in futures. Prices were easier, closing with net losses of 3 to 9 points. The market opened 1 to 2 points lower under trade and commission, selling and after holding steady.

while turned downward again, with prices lowest of the session and March sugar deliveries selling into new low ground for the season. Trading was not in very large proportions and operators were inclined to limit fresh commitments and awards in regard to the disposal of the 90,000 tons of sugar expected to be withdrawn from the original allotment for United States. Approximate sales 35.3 million tons. July closed 2.54; September 2.65; 1951, January 2.74; January 2.71; March 2.81; May 2.72.

Fair withdrawal demand was reported in the U.S. but no improvement in new business. Prices were unchanged at 6.05 to 6.10¢ per fine-granulated, with some second-hand available at around 6.05¢.
